

My Trip to

THE REGNIER FAMILY

WONDER  SCOPE

Children's Museum of Kansas City

I am taking a trip to Wonderscope Children's Museum. My adult will park in the parking lot and we will walk up together.

We will be careful while walking because the parking lot is a busy place.

We will walk through the doors together and see the front desk. My adult will need to check us in.

We will wait in line together until it is our turn.

We will be patient.

The front desk may be busy and it may be noisy.

We will put stickers on our shirts when it is time to go play.

While I am here I need to follow the rules:

I will remember to always stay with my adult

I will be safe and use walking feet

I will clean up by putting things back where I found them
when I am done playing.

The front desk is a good place to meet back up if my adult and I are separated.

I can get a sensory pack here if it is too loud or I feel I need one.

If I get lost, I can always find a staff person who works at Wonderscope. Staff will have name badges on. Staff people are safe adults.

I will listen to staff if they ask me to do something that will help me stay safe.

In the Creation Stations's Art Room,
I can make my own masterpiece

I can paint on the glass and clean it with the spray bottle.

I can wear a smock.

I can play on the stage and experiment with the supplies on the shelf.

My masterpiece can be whatever I want it to be.

The Art Room is messy and that's ok.
There is a sink to wash my hands.

I will walk by Kid City. This room is for little kids under 4 years old. Kid City is a safe place for the littles.

I will not go through the gate if I am a bigger kid. If I am 4 and under, I can use the tree as a quiet space.

In the KC Cafe, I can make a meal, serve tables, order food and clean the restaurant.

There are a lot of different textures that I can touch.

The cash register may make a noise like a bell.

If I am comfortable I can wear a hat and an apron.

I can share a pretend meal with friends and family.

I can go through the door to the WonderMart.
The market may be busy.

I may have to wait for a cart or basket.

I can put the groceries in the cart or basket and check out at the register when it is my turn. The register may make a noise like a tiny bell.

Different items will feel different in my hands.

I will put the items back when I am done.

Across from the Cafe and Market, I can play in The Crossroads.

There is a train with a slide and a covered wagon. I can put the costumes on if I am comfortable.

The train has a bell that is LOUD. The train makes noises when you pull the lever in the first car. In the caboose the screen will make different noises when you push the different buttons.

The floor around the covered wagon is bumpy.
The deck of the ship is smooth.

I can climb the stairs up to The Climber.

I can go across the tunnel to the floating house. The tunnel makes a whooshing noise when I cross it.

I can climb up and down the rope maze in the middle of the ship. It is darker in the rope maze and at the cave at the bottom.

The rope will feel bumpy on my hands and knees

There are secret caves
for me to find too!

I can go into the bus. I am up high when I look out the window. It is high up.

I can play in Waterworks. I may get wet playing in the water. I can wear a rain smock to help me stay dry. I can use the hand dryers in the corner if I get wet.

The floor will be wet.

I will use walking feet.

I can touch the water.

I can also stand back and watch the water.

The jets may get me wet.

The water will make a splashing noise. The water will make the room smell different.

I can use my whole body in
On the Move!

I will hear the basketball go through the hoop and hit the metal base at the bottom.

The screen on the wall will make noise if I push the buttons.

There may be different types of balls flying through the air and many people running around.

In the Design Lab I can build using different materials. I can use anything I can find on the shelves.

I can feel lots of different textures on my hands. I can hear the balls move through the magnetic pipes.

I can play with anything on the shelves

The work bench can be loud. The saw will make a grinding noise when I use it.

The work bench has many different textures for me to carefully explore.

Outside in Naturescape, I can do many things. I can play the musical butterflies. I can listen to the chimes in the garden.

I can climb on many things, like the rope climber, the cow and the tractor.

In the tree house I can relax on the big pillows or in a swing while I read a book. I can also play with trucks in the dirt.

I can ride on a tricycle but I may have to patiently wait my turn.

I can play in the sandbox. The sand may get into my shoes and clothes.

When it is time to leave, I will put all my toys away.

I will use my walking feet to head to the front door.

I may feel a little sad when I leave and that's okay. I will be excited for my next trip to Wonderscope Children's Museum!
